Swift's Specific.

The old-time simple remedy from the Georgia swamps and fields has gone forth to the antipodes, astonishing the skeptical and confounding the theories of those who depend solely on the physician's skill. There is no blood taint which it does not immediately eradicate. Poisons outwardly absorbed or the result of vile diseases from within all yield to this potent but simple remedy. It is an unequaled tonic, builds up the old and feeble, cures all diseases arising from impure blood or weakened vitality. Send for a treatise. Examine the proof.

A METRICAL MINIATURE.

Her eyes display a blended hue
Of summer skies and violets blue,
With just a hint of April dew
To make her glances bright;
But lest their luster be too fair,
And brighter than the world could bear,
Long lashes, like a silken snare,
Befringe her lids of white.

Shy apple blossoms flushed with morn
Have lent their color to adorn
Her cheek, whereon is gayly born
A dimple with each smile.
Her wayward tresses scorn to rest
By ribbon bound or fillet prest,
And ever weave at their behest
Fresh graces to beguile.

Her curving lips by turns recall
Red roses, poppies, cherries—all
That wins the eye or could enthrall
A hermit or a saint.
Her gleaming teeth 'twere vain to hymn;
The brightest words are all too dim;
The artist who their light would limn
Must crush a pearl for paint.

Beneath her kirtle peeps a foot
That charms in slipper, gaiter, boot;
Whose music makes the birds grow mute
With bended heads to hear.
Her hand can boast perfection's mold,
In winter warm, in summer cold,
And just the temperature to hold
At any time of year.

A snowy neck, a witching chin,
An ear in tint the sea shell's twin,
A saucy nose—just put that in—
The bonnie little belle!
Her name? Ah, there I hesitate;
With many a rival at her gate,
Her name, until I know my fate,
'Twere wiser not to tell.
—S. M. Peck in Century.

Poet versus Editor.

A tall, lank young man came into a New York editor's sanctum, and handing him a poem several feet long to read said in a condescending sort of a way:

"You can publish this poem for ten dollars."

"All right. Just hand over the ten dollars. That's below our usual rates, but times are hard."

"You misunderstand me. I mean you can have the poem by paying ten dollars."

"Can't take it. It's too cheap. It would be robbing you, for I know where you can get more than ten dollars for it."

"Where?"

"Take it to a justice of the peace and read it to him, and you will get twenty dollars and thirty days in the county jail if you don't pay your fine."

He looked sadly at the editor, shook his head and wafted himself out the door.—Texas Siftings.

Lively for the Letter Writer.

The carelessness of danger which characterizes certain soldiers does not always extend to the persons about them. The French marshal Bugeaud was once dictating, very near a battlefield, a letter to his secretary.

As the general spoke the words of his letter a bomb from the enemy's camp fell just in front of the door of his tent. The general went on talking, but the secretary seized his paper and half rose from his seat.

"Why are you stopping?" asked the marshal.

"The bomb!" gasped the secretary.

"Have I said anything about a bomb?"

"No—but—the bomb—the bomb!"

"Now what," said the marshal impatiently, "has the bomb got to do with the letter I am dictating to you? Go on with your writing!"

He resumed his dictation.—London Tit-Bits.

Dealing in Futures.

"You can't tell about boys," observed a Detroit schoolteacher to a party of friends. "I remember on one occasion, when I was teaching in the country, one of the boys right before my very eyes during school hours jumped on a boy next to him and began to knock him right and left with his fists. Of course I interfered at once.

"'What did you do that for?' I exclaimed as I dragged him away from the other boy. 'Charlie wasn't doing a thing. I saw it all.'

"'I know he wasn't,' replied the defiant youngster, 'but I was watch in him, an I could tell by his look he was goin to lick my little brother next Saturday.'"—Detroit Free Press.

Didn't Know Him.

Recently a brilliant paragrapher made a little item to the effect that Mayor Mosby and a party of friends had a little dinner at the Burnet House, and that the mayor had quite a tussle with Lindley Murray. His honor saw the paragraph, and on meeting the writer a few days after, said: "By the way, what did you mean by saying I had a tussle the other night with Lindley Murray? Why, I don't know Murray." To which the answer came at once, "I know you don't."—Cincinnati Times-Star.

Wrestling Dogs.

Have you never seen dogs wrestling? I have watched them with their fore paws upon each other's shoulders, standing upon their hind legs, panting and straining, each apparently endeavoring to throw the other, until both fell in a close embrace and rolled over and over. The one which finally succeeded in remaining uppermost was plainly proud of its victory.—Youth's Companion.

Getting a Square Meal.

Kind Lady—I thought I saw you just now getting something to eat next door.

Tramp—No, madam. I asked for something to eat, but the woman who came to the door had on such a homely dress that I turned away in disgust.

Kind Lady—Come in. What'll you have?—Detroit Free Press.

A WRITING TELEGRAPH.

It Does Not Print on a Tape and Works Automatically Also.

One of the principal objections to the printing telegraphs in the past has been the "form of delivery." They have all printed their messages on a narrow band of paper or "tape" and a press dispatch of a few hundred words would be many feet in length and liable to kinks, breaks and entanglement. Users of the telegraph have never been content to receive their dispatches on a ribbon, and have always protested against that form of record, asserting that to file it was impossible, and even to preserve it intact in any way was a constant source of harassment. A compromise has been effected in European practice by tearing off all dispatches received by printing telegraph into short lengths and pasting them on ordinary delivery blanks. This is a clumsy makeshift, and the annoyance of making a backward search for a particular item of news in the tangle of an ordinary "ticker" basket is familiar to all.

With a view to overcoming these and other objections to the printing telegraphs hitherto known, an American type telegraph machine has been designed, by means of which the delivery is in the form of a printed paper, eight inches wide. All the letters, numerals, fractions and other signs used on the ordinary typewriter are provided. The receiving instrument is entirely automatic in its action, requiring no skilled operator to watch or adjust it. The transmitter is similar in form, as far as the arrangement of the keys is concerned, to the typewriter, and can be worked by any person familiar with that instrument.

The transmitting operator by means of his keyboard has full control of the machine at the distant end of the line, and can vary the length of a printed line or space between two items of news or two telegrams at will. Typewriting by wire and by ordinary typewriting methods have been the objects sought to be obtained in the American type telegraph. The width of the paper, the form and action of the keyboard, as well as the manipulation of the machine generally, are made to conform as nearly as possible to the practice with which a typewriting operator is familiar.—Boston Transcript.

Reading in Railroad Cars.

A great improvement in English railway carriages consists of a provision of a separate light for passengers desiring to read, in addition to the lamps in the roofs of the cars. The mechanism of the lamp is exceedingly simple, and is contained in a box five inches by three inches. On the top of the machine is the inevitable slot, and when a penny is inserted therein and a knob is pressed an electric light is obtained which burns for half an hour, at the end of which time the light is automatically extinguished. It can be relighted by the insertion of another penny.

The light, which is of three candle power, is concentrated by a shaded reflector, which may be turned within certain limits so that a light may be directed to suit the position of the passenger. A remarkable feature of the machine is its honesty, as it is so arranged that in case of a failure in the supply of electricity the coin is automatically returned to the operator.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

How He Regarded Caterpillars.

A naturalist, spending his vacation at the house of an old Berkshire county farmer, undertook, in the kindness of his heart, to interest his host in some of the wonders of natural science.

He called his attention to the common caterpillar, described its habits of life, its methods of breathing through its sides, and dwelt at some length upon sundry other interesting details of its animal economy. The farmer listened.

"Well," said the professor at last, pausing for breath, "don't you find it wonderful? Did you ever suppose there was anything so remarkable about a caterpillar?"

"Waal, no," said the farmer, "I supposed they was mostly skin and sqush."—New York Recorder.

Naturalized Voters in Four States.

The four states in which a majority of the voters are foreign born are Wisconsin, Minnesota, Nevada, and California. In Wisconsin the foreign born voters, mostly Germans, Scandinavians, and Belgians, outnumber the native born voters by 27,000. In Minnesota the naturalized foreign born voters, mostly Scandinavians, outnumber the native born voters by 67,000. In Nevada the excess is but 600 votes and in California it is 2,000.—New York Sun.

Legislating Against Hoopskirts.

In Spain, about 1630, the hoopskirts became so monstrous that an edict was issued commanding their reduction and ordering the confiscation of hoopskirts above the regulation size. The attempts to carry out the edict caused innumerable riots and were finally abandoned.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Public Buildings as Objects of Art.

If our government could place the designing of its buildings in the hands of architects who have proved their ability to do justice to such great opportunities for professional distinction, the art of architecture would not only receive the encouragement which is due to it from one of the most enlightened nations of the world, but our public monuments would at last adequately express our civilization. In England, in France, in Germany, and indeed in all the great European countries, the public buildings are their highest and most characteristic efforts in art. It is the ambition of every architect to make himself worthy to be employed upon them. They constitute the great prizes of the profession.

We cross the Atlantic to see the cities which they have made beautiful. In our own country enough of treasure has been appropriated for national buildings and spent on them to make our cities equally noble and attractive. But under the present system these opportunities have been worse than lost, for they have encouraged an unnecessary extravagance of expenditure without adequate return, and they offer no higher type to be accepted as the expression of our civilization than respectable conventionality and organized commonplace.—Century.

Fees of a Great Criminal Lawyer.

What does it cost to go to law? It costs sums widely varying in size. We make the rich pay for the poor. Many of our most celebrated criminal suits are entirely for sweet charity's sake, because the client is unable to pay a cent. We take them because we feel that we can acquit them and score a victory where others have failed. Where our clients are rich we charge them large sums and make them pay all in a lump. The lowest fee for a divorce suit is $200 where we charge anything at all. The highest we have ever received for conducting such a suit is $32,000; the average is about $500.

People who have once been our clients have a great affection for us, as indeed they do for any lawyer who brings them out whole. And so a lawyer's life, instead of being filled with stories of ingratitude and falsity, very often has many a chapter crowded into it of love and gratitude for successfully carrying an innocent man or woman through an evil accusation and for helping the guilty to take advantage of every means offered by the law of the country.—Abe Hummel in New York Press.

A Clever Trick.

A clever trick was played a short time ago on board a steamboat plying between Calais and Dover. The sea was rough. A young woman, apparently ill with seasickness, groaned until a gentleman, who seemed to be a stranger, approached and asked if she would take a lozenge, which he had often tried on people with marvelous results. The young lady finally accepted the offer. The cure was instantaneous. Hardly had she swallowed the lozenge when she was sitting up all smiles and ordering ham sandwiches and bottled ale.

Some passengers, struck with the incident, inquired what was the wonderful remedy, and the gentleman, who proclaimed himself the agent for the sale of the lozenges, disposed of a considerable number of boxes at two dollars each. What was the surprise of the buyers when they saw the lady and her preserver go off arm in arm when the boat reached Dover. The pills were common jujube paste.—Boston Transcript.

He Chose the Cheaper.

In Montana it costs a man a dollar to make an affidavit, and one day a rough fellow, not up on the law, called on a magistrate for such a paper. He stated his business and asked the price.

"One dollar," replied the squire.

"Has a man got to pay a dollar fer tellin the truth?" exclaimed the visitor.

"That's the law," said the magistrate.

"Well, durn such a law. It's cheaper lyin. Good mornin," and he strode forth into the free air of the mountains.—Detroit Free Press.

Hand and Machine Made Paper.

A German writer tells how to know if a paper is handmade. A roll or strip of paper about an inch wide should be placed gently in water so that the upper surface is kept dry. In machine made paper the two sides will unroll in the direction of the center, but in handmade paper the sides will unfold in the form of a plate. This indicates the fibers in the handmade paper are equally disposed as to length and breadth, while in machine made paper they are chiefly extended in length.

Treating Erysipelas.

In order to treat erysipelas properly it is essential that it should be stopped in its spreading career, and the best success in this way is obtained in painting all around the affected parts with collodion about five or six inches in width. This method is good when the erysipelas is on the thigh or face, and it very rarely spreads beyond the fence thus constructed. Improvements are generally noticeable within a few days.—Yankee Blade.

SONOMA INDEX-TRIBUNE

SONOMA, NOVEMBER 26, 1892.

H. H. GRANICE - - - - - - - - - - - EDITOR

THE ELECTION PRINTING.

The recent election cost Sonoma county for printing alone over $3,000. This printing was given to the two Santa Rosa papers without competition. This is not doing the fair thing by the other newspapers of the county, some eight or nine in number, and the taxpayers who have to pay for this printing. We trust the new Board of Supervisors, the members of which will take their seats next January, will endeavor to consult the interests of the tax-payers in this matter, to the end that money be saved and the square thing be done by the newspapers in the other towns of the county.

We would like to knew what particular claims the Santa Rosa papers have on the taxpayers that they should be given this printing without competition?

In so far as the INDEX-TRIBUNE is concerned it can get along very well without the county's patronage, but as a tax-payer we want to see the Supervisors manage the affairs of this county just as they would their own private affairs. And we dare say that not one of the present Board of Supervisors if they had to incur an individual expense of $3000 for printing would give the job to any one or two particular papers without inviting bids on the work. If they did they would be fools from a business standpoint.

A WASHINGTON, D. C., dispatch says that word has reached that city from Philadelphia that the Chinese in that city propose to try to defeat the Geary law by means of fictitious photographs, the same as at Baltimore. It is believed in Philadelphia and Baltimore that a scheme is now on foot among the Chinese all over the country to defeat the purposes of the Chinese Exclusion Act. The promoter of it is the Hip Sin Tong, a powerful fraternal society, which has six branches—Junk, Lee, Ching, Shu, Young and Mock—embracing every State in the Union. The Hip Sin Tong is having photographs turned out by the thousands to supply any Chinaman who may need one. The colony in Washington has been notified that a batch of pictures would be sent to them in a few days, from which they can select as many as they wish and return the balance. Photographs are being sent all over the country, and in a few weeks each colony will have enough on tap to meet any demand that might be made upon them. It is reported that the Chinese are trying to secure the services of Robert G. Ingersoll and General B. F. Butler to test the constitutionality of the Geary law.

THE Petaluma Imprint under the new management of W. C. Kellogg comes to us greatly improved both editorially and typographically. The Imprint is now one of the best daily papers in Sonoma county. It is newsy and spicy and is really a credit to the young publisher.

EX-SECRETARY BLAINE refused to be interviewed regarding the result of the Presidential election, and even had his telephone taken out of his house to escape continual interruption of his work.

ACCORDING to the aggregate unofficial returns there were 14,100,060 votes cast for President at the recent election for the three leading candidates, Cleveland, Harrison and Weaver.

On the way to Paradise.

Let us hope that the people who habitually disregard their health will reach that desirable place, and avoid the locality which is less desirable as an eternal residence on account of the heat and surroundings generally. But while we tarry in this vale of tears, why should we voluntarily endure the tortures of dyspepsia, when a systematic use of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters will rid us of the atrocious malady which—unless physicians are very much at fault—tends to shorten the term of our existence. Heartburn, biliousness, constipation almost always accompany this complaint and are symptomatic of it. These are all extinguished by the Bitters, which also conquers completely malaria, rheumatism, nervousness and debility. Since the appearance of "la grippe" it has shown a singular mastery over this formidable complaint that has carried off so many of our brightest and best.

Simmons Liver Regulator always cures and prevents indigestion or dyspepsia.

Simmons Liver Regulator never fails to relieve the worst attacks of

Colorless, Emaciated, Helpless

A Complete Cure by HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA.

This is from Mr. D. M. Jordan, a retired farmer, and one of the most respected citizens of Otsego Co., N. Y.

"Fourteen years ago I had an attack of the gravel, and have since been troubled with my

Liver and Kidneys

gradually growing worse. Three years ago I got down so low that I could scarcely walk. I looked more like a corpse than a living being. I had no appetite and for five weeks I ate nothing but gruel. I was badly emaciated and had no more color than a marble statue. Hood's Sarsaparilla was recommended and I thought I would try it. Before I had finished the first bottle I noticed that I felt better, suffered less, the inflammation of the bladder had subsided, the color began to return to my face, and I began to feel hungry. After I had taken three bottles I could eat anything without hurting me. Why, I got so hungry that I had to eat 5 times a day. I have now fully recovered, thanks to Wild Horses in British Columbia.

In an area about fifteen miles square below Trout creek, in British Columbia, is a band of at least 700 wild horses. They are not only eating off the stock ranges, but are becoming a more direct source of loss to stock owners, for they entice away good horses, especially the colts. The government has several times been petitioned either to exterminate the band or give the settlers permission to do it, but thus far no action has been taken. Though these wild horses are worthless little animals, the authorities are afraid that killing them will give offense to the Indians, who claim some of them, but who nevertheless shoot without hesitation when any of the horses

NEW TO-DAY.

A Friend

Wishes to speak through the Register of the beneficial results he has received from a regular use of Ayer's Pills. He says: "I was feeling sick and tired and my stomach seemed all out of order. I tried a number of remedies, but none seemed to give me relief until I was induced to try the old reliable Ayer's Pills. I have taken only one box, but I feel like a new man. I think they are the most pleasant and easy to take of anything I ever used, being so finely sugar-coated that even a child will take them. I urge upon all who are of a laxative to try Ayer's Pills."—Boothbay (Me.), Register.

In Need

"Between the ages of five and fifteen, I was troubled with a kind of salt-rheum, or eruption, chiefly confined to the legs, and especially to the bend of the knee above the calf. Here, running sores formed which would scab over, but would break immediately on moving the leg. My mother tried everything she could think of, but all was without avail. Although a child, I read in the papers about the beneficial effects of Ayer's Pills, and persuaded my mother to let me try them. With no great faith in the result, she procured and I began to use them, and soon noticed an improvement. Encouraged by this, I kept on till I took two boxes, when the sores disappeared and have never troubled me since."—H. Chipman, Real Estate Agent, Roanoke, Va.

"I suffered for years from stomach and kidney troubles, causing very severe pains in various parts of the body. None of the remedies I tried afforded me any relief until I began taking Ayer's Pills, and was cured."—Wm. Goddard, Notary Public, Five Lakes, Mich.

DO YOU WANT TO ADOPT A BABY?

Maybe you think this is a new business sending out babies on application; it has been done before, however, but never have these furnished been so near the original sample as this one. Everyone will exclaim, "Well, that's the sweetest baby I ever saw!" This little black-and-white engraving can give you but a faint idea of the exquisite original which we propose to send to you, transportation paid. The little darling rests against a pillow, and is in the act of drawing off its pink sock, the mate of which has been pulled off and flung aside with a triumphant coo. The flesh tints are perfect, and the eyes follow you, no matter where you stand. The exquisite reproductions of this greatest painting of Ida Waugh—the most celebrated of modern painters—baby life—are to be given to those who subscribe to Demorest's Family Magazine for 1893. The reproductions cannot be told from the original, which cost $500, and are the same size. Exactly. The baby's life-size, and absolutely lifelike. We have also in preparation, to present to our subscribers during 1893, other great pictures by such artists as Percy Moran, Maud Humphrey, Louis Deschamps, our Fathers of world-wide renown. Take only two examples of what we did during the past year, "A Yard of Pansies," and "A White House Orchid" by the wife of President Harrison, and you will see what our promises mean.

Those who subscribe for Demorest's Family Magazine for 1893 will possess a gallery of exquisite work; a work of great value. Besides a Magazine that cannot be equaled by any in the world for its beautiful illustrations and subject matter, that will keep everyone posted on all the topics of the day, and all the fads and different items of interest about the household, besides great home interesting reading matter, both grave and gay, for the whole family; and while Demorest's is not a fashion Magazine, its fashion pages are perfect, and are given you, free of cost, all the patterns you wish during the year, and in any size and style you choose. Send in your subscription at once, only $2, and you will really get over $25 in value. Address the publisher, W. Jennings Demorest, 15 East 14th St., New York. If you are unacquainted with the Magazine, send 10 cents for a specimen copy

The Bazaar and entertainments, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week by the Ladies' Society of the Congregational church will be of interest to all. Spread the news around that no one may miss it.

A. J. Van Every of this place was one of the jurors who tried Crews in Santa Rosa last week for the murder of Byrn near Windsor several months ago. Crews was found guilty of murder in the second degree.

The final account and settlement of the Ewell estate, of which Fred. F. Ewell is guardian and Wm. E. McConnell attorney, will come up in the probate department of the Superior Court in Santa Rosa next Monday.

The Young Peoples' society will conduct the services at the Congregational church Sunday evening. Vocal and instrumental music, an essay and a short address will compose the programme. All are cordially invited to attend.

State and county taxes will become delinquent next Monday, November 28th, at 6 P. M. Those who have not yet settled with the Tax Collector, if they do not want 15 per cent added to the amount, must pay up between now and next Monday evening.

Hon. J. K. Luttrell, who is now temporarily sojourning in San Francisco after a hard campaign in the Second Congressional District in the interest of Congressman Carminetti, will shortly visit Sonoma. Mr. Luttrell's man was elected by over 4000 majority.

Wild geese are swarming on the tule lands south of town. They are so thick and destructive on the Senator Jones ranch that a hunter is employed to keep the voracious birds off the young grain which has commenced to make a fine growth on the Senator's ranch.

Tide-water trout fishing has commenced in earnest, and several good strings have been caught the past week. On Saturday last John Lademan killed two fine fellows at the flood gates near Embarcadero that weighed five and three-and-a half pounds respectively.

W. A. McCauley is making extensive improvements on his farm near this place. He has a force of painters and carpenters engaged in overhauling his dwelling, barns, outhouses, etc. When the improvements are completed Mr. and Mrs. McCauley will make Sonoma their permanent home.

Carl Dresel, the well-known viticulturist, visited the Italian-Swiss Colony near Cloverdale several days this week. He made a careful inspection of the vines in that vicinity, but failed to detect the presence of phylloxera except in a few instances. He reports the vines belonging to the Colony to be in a very healthy condition.

The rain last Wednesday was a most welcome visitor to our farmers and dairymen, but the precipitation was hardly sufficient to start the young grass. Yesterday morning, however, a steady rain set in and continued up to the hour of going to press, 3 P. M., thoroughly saturating the ground. The rainy season is now evidently at hand.

The Petaluma Incubator Company offer $100 in gold coin for the largest and best display of poultry at the Poultry Show to be held in Petaluma on January 10th, 11th, 12th, 13th and 14th. There are no cast iron restrictions to make it impossible for any one to win the above mentioned sum. It is a gift offered by one of the most enterprising firms in Petaluma, and the money will be paid even though the largest exhibit does not embrace more than half a dozen fowls. This is an opportunity for the poultry raisers of Sonoma Valley to secure $100 that should not be thrown away.

No doctor's bills presented to the families who use Simmons Liver Regulator.

THE SONOMA VALLEY EXHIBIT COMMITTEE.

Its Affairs at Last Wound Up.

The final report of the Sonoma Valley Exhibit Committee appears in these columns this week. The report shows that on January 9, 1892, there was on deposit in the Sonoma Bank the sum of $568.94, to which was added the sum of $24.55, receipts from the sale of fruit jars, etc., which were ordered sold by the committee. Of this amount $525 has been expended on a public receiving vault, which will be turned over to the city of Sonoma next month; $13.50 was also expended for a plate for the same, while several other small bills bring the total expenditures up to $558. This leaves a balance on hand of $58.04, which will be turned over to the city for cemetery purposes, less $10 additional expense incurred since the report was given into the printer's hand for publication. Thus ends the famous Sonoma Valley Exhibit Committee, which in 1889 won the first prize of $1000 at the Mechanics' Fair for the best general exhibit, embracing the products of Sonoma Valley, against every county in the State our own county included.

Death of a Former Sonoma Lady.

Mrs. Ed. Anthony (nee Ella Dey) formerly of this place, where she spent several years of her girlhood days, died last week at her home in Berkeley from diphtheria. The fatal disease was contracted from her two little children, who had been suffering from the disease for several days, one of whom subsequently died. Mrs. Anthony, before her marriage some five years ago, was one of Sonoma's bright and vivacious young ladies. Gifted with a beautiful voice and engaging manners, the home of her parents, Orange Lawn, was the rendezvous of the youth and gayety of Sonoma Valley. Her sad death has caused her many friends much sorrow. The deceased was a native of Canada and aged 24 years. The remains were laid to rest in the cemetery at Berkeley.

Shooting Stars.

A brilliant meteoric display was witnessed in this place last Wednesday evening. For over two hours shooting stars by the thousands shot through the heavens, making a magnificent pyrotechnic display. The phenomenon was not unexpected as astronomers had predicted the starry shower several months ago. The occurrence, however, took place three or four days before the time predicted. To-morrow evening there will be a repetition of the starry display.

Wants $60,000 a Year Only.

Mrs. Teresa Bell of Glen Ellen, widow of the late Thomas Bell, the millionaire, who recently died in San Francisco, has petitioned the Probate Court in the above city to make her an allowance of $5,000 per month for household and living expenses out of her late husband's estate. According to the terms of the will the principal cannot be touched until the children become of age, and Mrs. Bell claims that $60,000 a year is no more than a reasonable amount for expenses according to their circumstances and accustomed mode of life.

The Boggs Carriger Case.

A. B. Carriger was arraigned before the Superior Court at Santa Rosa, last Monday, charged with the murder of his brother, Wm. W. Carriger. He entered a plea of not guilty. The defense set up by the accused will be that the shooting was accidental. As the brothers were on the most friendly terms up to the day of the shooting the defense will be a strong one.

Duck Shooting.

Ducks have been scarce in the marshes south of town and our local nimrods are disconsolate. The shores of San Pablo Bay in the vicinity of the Petaluma drawbridge, however, are swarming with the birds which are bound to hunt cover in the sloughs and fresh water ponds bordering the shores of Sonoma creek, now that the wet season has set in, and good shooting can now be counted on to a certainty.

A Local Gun Club.

The Sonoma Valley Gun Club has been organized in this place with the following membership: J. Wadsworth, F. A. Riser, J. A. Perkins, George Cassidy, Ed. Dowdall and F. Grothaus. The club has leased the tule lands on Harry Fisheer's dairy farm and none but members will be allowed to shoot on the same.

Unfailing in effects, always reliable, pure and harmless, is Simmons Liver Regulator.

THE WORLD'S FAIR.

Exhibitors in the Viticultural Department.

At a meeting of the committee in charge of the Viticultural Exhibit for the World's Fair held November 11, 1892, Hon. H. M. La Rue, chief of the Department of Viticulture, stated that he was prepared to allot space in the Horticultural Building to the exhibitors from California. In order to facilitate the allotment of space and save expense to the exhibitor, Mr. La Rue suggests that a number of the small exhibitors unite together and make a collective exhibit. There will be no charge for space in the Horticultural Building but the exhibitors must pay all expenses of putting up their exhibits on racks, etc., and caring for the same during the Fair. It is therefore recommended that all the exhibitors in each county, who desire only a small amount of space, to group their exhibits for by so doing they will be able to make a better showing and also save expense. The time for applying for space has passed. If the plan of grouping the exhibits is adopted new exhibitors could come in.

In Sonoma county the following parties have signified their intention of exhibiting wines and brandies: Walder & Co., F. Korbell & Bros., Italian Swiss Colony, I. De Turk, D. D. Davisson, Mrs. A. E. Hood, J. Gundlach & Co. and Lay, Clark & Co.

The Home at Glen Ellen.

Director F. W. Lougee, of the Home for the Feeble Minded, near Glen Ellen, returned from a visit there this week. He says the boys' wing of the asylum has been finished and accepted by the directors and paid for. There are now 257 inmates at the Home and the number is daily increasing. Mrs. Lathrop, the matron, has resigned. About $2000 of revenue has been received from the products of the Home this season, beside the great quantity used by the inmates. Thousands of pounds are consumed immediatly, besides the immense quantities that are dried and preserved for winter use. The labor of the boys is largely utilized in the cultivation of vegetables for the home consumption. There has not been a cent expended for a potato or a turnip for months. Everything is raised on the place. The avenues have all been laid out, and now a number of flower beds are being planted. It will be one of the most picturesque and attractive spots in Sonoma county.—Democrat.

Double Elopement.

Two daughters of Louis Hickles of Calistoga—one aged 15, the other 13—eloped or were abducted from their homes on Friday, the 11th inst., by William Finley and George Smith, who hired a carriage from the Calistoga Stable and took the girls to Mark West Springs. The vehicle was returned to Calistoga next day. Officers tracked the men to and arrested them at Guerneville, but the girls were not with them, nor have they been seen since. The men were examined for abduction and held over and lodged in Napa jail. Search is being made for the girls.

SENATOR FAIR is endevoring to secure a franchise for a trolly electric road to run the entire length of Van Ness avenue, San Francisco, and the people of that thoroughfare are up in arms. The property-owners in the Western Addition East and West of Van Ness avenue, however, have some rights in the matter, and the road ought to go through. The people of the metropolii might just as consistently object to having no cable or electric roads in that city at all, as to hinder the building of a road on Van Ness avenue, which is one of the widest streets in the city.

Ex-Marshal Charles of Santa Rosa was the stake holder for a $50 bet between W. E. Healey and Hy Groshong. The official returns decided the bet in Healey's favor Friday, but the night before burglars entered Marshal Charles' house and stole the coin.

Leonard Espey, the nine year-old son of John Espey, a prominent farmer living near Fulton, accidentally shot and killed himself with a shotgun Tuesday morning. He was out hunting and sat down on a grindstone to rest, and in handling his gun it was discharged, blowing a hole through his stomach. He died instantly.

Dr. H. Latham has presented the Breeder and Sportsman with a handsome map of the Bluegrass region of Kentucky, showing the location of every stock farm in that part of the world, celebrated for the production of fast horses. Petaluma was visited by a fire Sunday night which destroyed considerable property. The telephone office was badly damaged, and business over the line from that place was seriously impeded for a few hours Monday. Attorney Lyman Green is the greatest sufferer by the conflagration. He lost nearly all his law books and many of his most valuable papers. Wickersham's bank had a narrow escape and got off with a scorching. How the fire started is not known, but it is supposed by many that it was due to spontaneous combustion in the store room near the telephone office.

Deputy Collector W. S. Davis received Monday an application from a Chinaman in Geyserville for a certificate of residence as is provided for in the Geary act. This is the first application Mr. Davis has received, and is only the second in the Fourth Internal Revenue District. By the advice of the Six Companies most all the Chinamen have refused to register, but it is expected when one breaks the ice the others will follow in short order. It is understood, however, that counsel has been secured, and after the 5th of May, when the arrests and evictions of unregistered Chinamen will take place, an effort will be made to contest the validity of the act.—Democrat.

SONOMA INDEX - TRIBUNE.

SONOMA, SATURDAY, NOV. 26, 1892.

THE COAL SUPPLY OF THE WORLD.

There Is a Limit Which Some Day, Say 300 Years Hence, Must Be Reached.

The coal pit is not inexhaustible. The bottom may not be in sight, nor its future cleaning up be of any immediate concern, but its eventuality is none the less a predetermined fact. It may or may not be of any appreciable concern when its last contribution to human service is dumped in a coal bin, as in the unseen process of its manufacture and storage it has evidenced a creative design, in which the provision of fuel for man's use was not limited to an exhaustive article. The formation of fuel was not arrested when anthracite and bituminous coal became a mineral fact, nor was the process of formulation stopped when what is known as the creative week had its Saturday night. This may qualify but it does not annul the fact of a limit to future coal supplies.

The world's annual output of coal has, it is estimated, reached a total of 485,000,000 tons, and the countries contributing to that enormous total were as follows, together with the amounts they produced in 1890: Great Britain and Ireland, 128,000,000 tons; America, United States (estimated for 1891), 141,000,000 tons; Germany, 90,000,000 tons; France, 28,000,000 tons; Belgium, 20,000,000 tons; Austria, 9,000,000 tons; Russia, (1888), 6,000,000 tons; others, 9,000,000 tons. During the last twenty years there has been a marked increase in the consumption of coal, which was no doubt commensurate with increased industrial activity. Thus, comparing European countries alone, the average annual output for the period of 1880-90 was upward of 62,000,000 tons greater than during the previous decade, and that rate of interest bade fair to be maintained, so that the world's consumption of coal would soon reach 500,000,000 tons per annum, if it had not already done so.

In an investigation made by a royal commissioner as to the ascertainable sources of coal in Great Britain, it was discovered that not more than 146,773,000,000 tons were available at depths not exceeding 4,000 feet from the surface—a reserve which at the present rate of increase of population and of coal consumption would be practically exhausted in less than 300 years.

The law of limit in this, as in all other mineral products, is of course without exception. It is simply a difference in tonnage. Industrial activity, to which under present conditions the use of coal is indispensable for steam and power purposes, is not only multiplying the demands of consumption, but has a widening area of use, to which the map of the two hemispheres is the only limit.

We cannot add a pound of coal to nature's deposits or build an addition to the planetary cellar, but it is possible to economize a product in the use of which civilization has been ignorantly wasteful.—Age of Steel.

She Preferred His Rival.

A story is told of Lord Melbourne in his character of premier asking the young Queen Victoria whether "there was any individual for whom she felt such a preference that she would wish to have him associated with her in the cares of sovereignity." The queen, a little astonished, asked whether the question was put by Lord Melbourne in his character of a minister of the crown, and he replied that under no other circumstances would he have presumed to address such a question to her majesty. "Then," said the queen, "I must admit that there is one individual for whom I entertain a decided preference, and that individual is the Duke of Wellington." The length of Lord Melbourne's face may be imagined, the duke being of course his great political adversary.—San Francisco Argonaut.

What the Jury Wanted to Know.

During the hearing of an important civil action at the assizes of a country town there was much evidence upon both sides, and this took up several days. The lawyers then had a day and a half to themselves, and his lordship's careful and minute summing up occupied nearly a day. In due course the jurymen retired to consider their verdict, but their absence was so prolonged that at length the judge sent to inquire whether he could in any way facilitate their decision.

Having returned into court he asked the foreman to explain the difficulty, and was staggered by the reply, as the foreman touched his forelock, "If you please, your lordship, we should like to know what all this 'ere case is about."—London Tit-Bits.

How a Kitten Enjoys Itself.

No small boy enjoys a game of ball better than a kitten, though the kitten, to be sure, invariably plays "handball," and often plays alone. It will amuse itself by the hour, gently batting some object with its paw, sending it now here, now there, keeping it continually in motion, and evidently enjoying every moment of the play.—Exchange.

We shall give away 200 valuable prizes besides special prizes (if there should be so many sending correct answers). No charge is made for boxing or packing prizes. The names of the leading prize winners will be published in connection with our advertisement in leading newspapers next month.

Nothing is charged for prizes in any way. They are absolutely given for the purpose of increasing the circulation of our Folio. We handle all lines of sheet music, and are the only "House" in the trade supplying the consumers direct at wholesale prices, which is sure to win your patronage. We have outlived the prejudice that the public have against Prize Competitions brought about by unscrupulous publishers of "Fake" journals and patent medicine men, as we have not advertised to give everything, but have given everything we advertised. This month's issue contains the following copyright music:

"LA SERENATA" WALTZES.
"HUSH LITTLE GIRL DON'T CRY." (Vocal).
"ANDALUCIA" WALTZES. Great success.
"MY MOTHER'S KISS." (Vocal).
"FAIRY ECHOES" REVERIE
"FACES." (Comic Song).
"SPRING WHISPERS," MORCEAU.
"OVER THE WAVES," WALTZES.
Fifty pages in all.

If this is not by far the greatest value you ever saw in the music line, write us and we will refund your money without quibble or argument. No answer will be noticed that does not contain 30 cents in stamps, within thirty days after this advertisement appears. Address:

PASTOR KOENIG'S TRADE MARK NERVE TONIC

ALAMOSA, COL., Jan., 6d. 1891

My wife was troubled with nervousness about one year before she took Pastor Koenig's Nerve Tonic, and at that time had very severe attacks of spasm, convulsion, and pains in different parts of the body; when in this state her lower jaws would act violently and set sometimes, bite her tongue, breathe heavily, then short, then seemed to stop entirely, get a wild look in her eyes and rolling around, then stop sometimes; it would take two men to hold her in bed, otherwise her body would cramp and be so for two hours. She took but two bottles of the Nerve Tonic, which cured her entirely of all these torments, which myself and wife gladly testify it truly had the desired effect D. S. M'GILLIS.

Mrs. Ester Devilbiss, 354 S. Tenth street, San Jose, Cal., writes, October 1889: Pastor Koenig's Nerve Tonic has indeed done wonders in my part of the country. There has been bought in my neighborhood over $5 worth.

Mozart's Knowledge of Instruments.

Scarcely an instrument in the orchestra escaped Mozart's attention. A born violinist, he wrote concerti for violin and orchestra, which, though without the emotional element of Beethoven and Spohr, are greatly prized. To the tenor violin, which had been deemed worthy only of filling up tutti passages, he gave a voice and place of its own in the orchestra. The clarionet was raised to great importance by him, and forth with took place as a favorite solo instrument. In nearly all his scores it received especial attention; while the fresh, beautiful, and exceedingly masterful work, the quintet in A major for clarionet and strings, and the fine clarionet concerto, which he composed for Stadler, have imparted to the instrument an all age reputation which can never be impaired.

Then his sparkling genius spent itself in writing for that fine reed instrument, the basset horn, the splendid properties of which he deemed more suitable than even the clarionet for his "Requiem." For the oboe Mozart did much, according it a prominence which it had never reached with any previous composer. His Opus 108 has a rare oboe part, and in the mass "No. 12" is some fine if difficult music for it.—Blackwood's Magazine.

A Whistling Language.

It seems that there is really a whistling language. A French traveler, M. Lajard, has written a work on the subject which has been occupying the attention of the Paris Academy of Sciences. It is in the Canary islands that people whistle instead of speaking when they hold converse with each other. Nor is the whistling language a mere language of conventional sounds. It is composed of words, as it were, like any other language, and the inhabitants of the Canary islands attain great proficiency in it, so that they can converse on all sorts of subjects. The whistling noise is produced by placing two fingers inside the mouth.

M. Lajard declares that the language has a great affinity with Spanish. He has jotted some of it down in a sort of musical notation, and it is found that any sentence has exactly one syllable more than the equivalent sentence in Spanish, the extra sound being accounted for by the fact that the first syllable serves as a mere explanation designed to attract the attention of the person addressed. M. Lajard learned enough of the language to converse to a certain extent with the natives.—London Telegraph.

Letting Temper Run Its Course.

"What a comfort it is occasionally to slam a door!" confessed one woman to another in a confidential chat. "There have been times when that privilege was a great safety valve to me."

The other laughed. "A little hard on the latch and hinges, wasn't it?" she said. "I knew a woman who showed me in a closet an old calico gown secured to a hook. She said to me, 'Whenever I am irritated to the verge of giving way I rush in here and give this gown a vigorous twist.' Its tattered folds were mutely eloquent of its value as a mood conductor. My own method of relief is to rush into the garden and dig. When my family see my trowel making the dirt fly they realize that I have got to the 'slamming door' pitch and nobody disturbs me."—Her Point of View in New York Times.

"August Flower"

The Hon. J. W. Fennimore is the Sheriff of Kent Co., Del., and lives at Dover, the County Seat and Capital of the State. The sheriff is a gentleman fifty-nine years of age, and this is what he says: "I have "used your August Flower for several years in my family and for my "own use, and found it does me "more good than any other remedy. "I have been troubled with what I "call Sick Headache. A pain comes "in the back part of my head first, "and then soon a general headache "until I become sick and vomit. "At times, too, I have a fullness "after eating, a pressure after eating "at the pit of the stomach, and "sourness, when food seemed to rise "up in my throat and mouth. When "I feel this coming on if I take a "little August Flower it relieves "me, and is the best remedy I have "ever taken for it. For this reason "I take it and recommend it to "others as a great remedy for Dyspepsia, &c." ⑨

EXPLANATION.—The following picture contains four faces, a man and his three daughters. Any one can find the man's face, but it is not so easy to distinguish the faces of the three young ladies. The picture was published in a few newspapers some time ago, and attracted considerable attention to our standard remedies. We now offer a NEW prize competition in connection with it. As the sole object is to introduce our medicines into new homes, those who entered the former competition are requested not to compete in this one. As to the reliability of "The Ford Pill Co.," and the estimation in which their medicines are held in Toronto, Canada, where they are best known, patrons are referred to the daily newspapers, wholesale druggists and leading business houses generally of Toronto.

The proprietors of "The Ford Pill Co.," will give an elegant pair of Shetland Ponies, Carriage and Harness, valued at $600, (delivered free in any part of the United States, to the first person who can make out the three daughters' faces. To the second will be given an elegant Lady's Gold Watch, set in sapphires and diamonds. To the third will be given a pair of genuine Diamond Ear-rings. To the fourth will be given a handsome China Dinner Service. To the fifth will be given a Kodak Camera. To the sixth, a Swiss Music Box. To the seventh, a French Mantel Clock. To the eighth, an elegant Banquet Lamp. To the ninth, a pair of Crown Derby Vases. To the tenth, a complete Lawn Tennis Set, and many other prizes in order of merit. Every competitor must cut out the above "Puzzle Picture," distinguish the three girls' faces by marking a cross with a lead pencil on each, and enclose same with 15 U. S. two-cent stamps for one of the following "Prize Remedies":—"Ford's Prize Pills," "Ford's Prize Catarrh Remedy," or "Ford's Prize Cough Cure." Select any one of the above remedies you desire. Address "The Ford Pill Co.," Cor. Wellington & Bay Sts., Toronto, Canada. The person whose envelope is postmarked first will be awarded the first prize, and the others in order of merit. As this advertisement appears simultaneously throughout the United States, every one has an equal opportunity. To the person sending the last correct answer will be given an elegant Upright Concert Grand Piano, valued at $500.00. To the first person from the last sending a correct answer will be given a gentleman's fine Gold "Sandoz" Watch, which strikes the hours and quarter hours on small cathedral gong at pleasure, and valued at $300.00. To the second from the last, a first-class Safety Bicycle, pneumatic tire. To the third from the last, a first-class English Shotgun. To the fourth from the last, a suite of Parlor Furniture. To the fifth from the last, a handsome Silver Tea Service. To the sixth from the last, an elegant Piano Lamp. To the seventh from the last, a handsome pair of Portieres. To the eighth from the last, a genuine English leather travelling Trunk. To the ninth from the last, two pieces of genuine French Statuary, and many other prizes in order of merit.

SPECIAL PRIZES FOR EACH STATE.

A special prize of a Silk Dress Pattern (sixteen yards, any color), or a first-class Sewing Machine (any make desired) will be given to the first person in each State in the U. S. who can make out the three daughters' faces. We shall give away 200 valuable prizes, besides special prizes, (if there should be so many sending correct answers.) No charge is made for boxing and packing of prizes. The names of the leading prize winners will be published in connection with our advertisement in leading newspapers next month. Extra premiums will be given to only those who are willing to assist in introducing our medicines. Nothing is charged for the prizes in any way. They are absolutely given away to introduce and advertise "Ford's Prize Remedies," which are standard medicines, and will be used in every family for years where they have been once introduced. All prizes will be awarded strictly in order of merit, and with perfect satisfaction to the public. The remedies will be sent by mail, postpaid, and prizes free of duty.

A WATCH FOR EVERY CORRECT ANSWER.

An extra premium of a genuine "Fearless" Watch, (stem winder,) will be awarded to every person who sends a correct answer within 30 days after this advertisement appears, in case they should not be fortunate enough to secure one of the larger prizes. That is, if any one can find the three faces and enclose them within 30 days from the time this advertisement appears in the newspaper, they are guaranteed either one of the leading prizes, or an extra premium of a watch on conditions stated. No answer will be noticed that does not contain 30 cents for one of Ford's Prize Remedies.

F. G. Nagle

SOLD OUT!

THIS AGREEMENT MADE AND ENTERED INTO this third day of October, 1887, between F. G. Nagle of the City of Santa Rosa, party of the first part, and J. W. Ragsdale and H. C. Brown of the same place, the parties of the second part, Witnesseth: That the party of the first part for and in consideration of the sum of SEVEN THOUSAND DOLLARS gold coin of the United States of America to him in hand paid by the parties of the second part, the receipt whereof is hereby acknowledged, does by these presents sell, assign, convey, transfer and set over unto the said parties of the second part and their heirs forever, all those abstracts, books of abstracts, papers, records and files of every nature and kind pertaining to the business of abstracting or conveyancing now conducted and carried on by the party of the first part, at the City of Santa Rosa, Sonoma county: also all the business now on hand or contracted to be done by the party of the first part, as Searcher of Records, Abstractor, or Conveyancer; also all the furniture, fixtures and safe now in the office of said party of the first part, in said City of Santa Rosa.

To have and hold the same and the whole thereof, unto the said party of the second part and to their heirs forever.

And in consideration of the premises the party of the first part hereby sells, transfers and conveys unto the said parties of the second part, the good will of said business, that is to say the good will of the business of the party of the first part as Searcher of Records, Abstractor and Conveyancer in the County of Sonoma, and the whole thereof.

And the said party of the first part hereby promises, covenants and agrees to and with the parties of the second part, and their heirs, to refrain from and not to carry on or conduct, or in any other manner be engaged in, directly or indirectly, as owner, employee, or otherwise in the business of Searcher of Records, Abstracter or Conveyancer in said County of Sonoma, or any part thereof, so long as the parties of the second part, OR EITHER OF THEM, shall carry on a like business in said Sonoma county.

Provided, that the said party of the first part may carry on the business of Conveyancing in any portion of the said County of Sonoma, except in the City of Santa Rosa.

In witness whereof the said party of the first part has hereunto set his hand and seal the day and year first above written. F. G. NAGLE. [SEAL.]

Witness, B. M. SPENCER.

NAGLE IN COURT.

In the Justice's Court of Santa Rosa Township, Sonoma County, California.

J. W. RAGSDALE, Plaintiff, vs. F. G. NAGLE, Defendant.

The plaintiff for cause of action against the defendant, alleges: That on the 16th day of November, 1888, said defendant, F. G. Nagle, received from G. W. Call the sum of one hundred (100) dollars, the property of the Sonoma County Abstract Bureau; that of said money said defendant, Nagle, returned to said Bureau the sum of $20 only, and retained, and ever since has retained, the balance of said $100, to-wit, $80, for his own use, and that no part of said $80 has ever been paid; that said Bureau assigned said claim to plaintiff.

For a further and separate cause of action plaintiff alleges: That defendant is indebted to plaintiff in the sum of $80 for money had and received from G. W. Call, November 16th, 1888, for the use and benefit of the Sonoma County Abstract Bureau, which claim has been assigned to the plaintiff, and that no part of the same has ever been paid.

Wherefore, plaintiff prays for a judgment against defendant for the sum of $80 and costs.

RUTLEDGE & PRESSLEY, Attorneys for Plaintiff.

Dec. 9, 1891, complaint filed, summons issued and served. Dec. 15 default and judgment entered against defendant for $80 and costs. Dec. 16th, Nagle pays judgment.
